

Bar Daskal is a Spanish wine, cocktail and tapas bar located in London Bridge's Borough Yards. The bar is named after seafaring artist, the owners grandfather, Vladimir Daskaloff, who worked under the name 'Daskal,' and set up a home and studio in Estellencs, Mallorca after many years at sea.

We offer an exclusively Spanish wine and sherry list and a short list of cocktails made with Spanish spirits. To eat, there are tapas and snacks, from expertly sourced Spanish charcuterie and cheeses, to classic tortilla wedges with alioli, piquant gildas and a 'coca of the day.'

- Standing receptions for up to 55 guests
- Private dining for up to 15 guests
- Meetings for up to 15 guests

Bookings are subjected to a minimum spend or room hire depending on the type of event.

standing receptions

Upstairs, Bar Daskal can host up to 25 people for a private party, with its own bar, overlooking Park Street. Exclusive hire of both floors is available for parties of up to 50 guests.

Half the venue is seated and half standing allowing an informal, relaxed and transportive environment.

Our para picar menu includes a selection of Spanish charcuterie, snacks and pintxos inspired by dishes found in traditional Spanish neighbourhood bars. Plates are dotted around the room and brought out at different intervals throughout the evening.
